Dead To Fall, Preying On The Helpless

You took everything in a single action Caring only for your instant gratification You smashed their world and took Everything away Preying on the helpless, children The consequences are reaped for your actions The seed of destruction is sown and I don't care what you plan to accomplish and I won't allow you to hurt anymore Your days are numbered Preying on their lives, Preying on their souls