

Deadlock, Bloodpact

they are no men- they are nothing a carcass- bloated by shame and as their blood fills the skies our love for humanity faded became jaded

this is our blood pact we are all brothers in blood!

It's not your world it is ours, You are just a maggot in our flesh and as their blood fills the skies its time to remind them of their mortal lives these false hopes for a never coming paradise

we once concluded a pact
a pact written in blood and now that night becomes day we go shatter their dreams

we once concluded this pact this pact written in our blood and we now love to spray fire on their worlds burning down!

In our world you are useless Not worth a single tear And as your blood fills the skies we sit down and enjoy your very last breath your last heart-beat

this is our blood pact we are all brothers in blood!

now these old worlds fade away while the wolves put their lives astray

this is our blood pact we are all brothers in blood!

in a night where all creatures are equal it is time for the blood pact sequel

and we now love to spray fire
on their worlds burning down!
