

Dealership, Hostage

You can't decide if you should stare or act demure Whiling away...
Tick-tock the countdown we'll see which of us will lose
Whose calls are answered first by tv crews and signs and megaphones

It's not easy fooling you
Making you believe I'd put this lead through your skull
Cut off the weapon at the fuse
Return the ransom note unused
Cuz it's all over now, I know
It's all over now, I know

Don't say a word and you won't force me to use this (Looking away)
Slowly revealing all the emptiness of threats
And now you call my bluff
You laugh at me and say you wanna go home

But of course I'd blow this too
How funny you would do the one thing I can't ignore
Cut off the weapon at the fuse
Return the ransom note unused
Cuz it's all over now, I know
It's all over now, I know

you're surrounded - nothing more to see, till you found it no one here but me, and i'm surrounded

But of course I'd blow this too
How funny you would do the one thing I can't ignore
Cut off the weapon at the fuse
Return the ransom note unused
Cuz it's all over now, I know
It's all over now, I know
