

Dear And The Headlights, Oh No!

Oh, no!
I had a thought and a feeling
I watched them fasten the noose
I wonder what to do
I wonder what to do

Oh, no!
Smirking the whole time Jim spoke
He doesn't have a clue
I wonder what to do
I wonder what to do

Haven't had a day alone
Haven't had a day alone since I met you

Oh, no!
I talk it over with mother
I talk it through with the cops
They give us the same answer
Keep being careful and

Oh, no!
I'm lying if I'm talking
It's what I don't tell you
You wouldn't like the truth
You wouldn't like it

Haven't had a day alone
Haven't had a day alone since I met you

And it's one eye on the banquet table,
The other on the door.
And everyone's got reasons,
But I don't have the same ones,
And it's true
Oh, no!

Oh, no!
The metal wheel is spinning
I take a sip from a tube
In the glass I {look} pretty
Sawdust in my shoes

Oh, no!
Balancing in my head now
Awaiting a false move
I don't know what to do
I don't know what to do

Haven't had a day alone
Haven't had a day alone since I met you

And it's one eye on the banquet table,
The other on the door.
And everyone's got reasons,
But I don't have the same ones,
And it's true
Oh, no!
