

Death By Stereo, Sow The Seeds

Feels like I'm surrounded by silence
Directionless against the wind
Feels like I'm surrounded by silence
Directionless against the wind
Seems like there's no one in my life
Feels like the trap I'm in
Sometimes your sadness feels mine
Sometimes the world takes it's toll
Sometimes there is no way out
Sometimes it's hard not to fold
These things way heavy on my head
(in my head, my head, my head I'm alone)
In my head I'm alone
Mark, I hear you're confused man
(you're not, you're not, you're not all alone)
Man, you're not all alone
When I heard these words spoken
When I heard these words spoken
I knew I was not alone
It's time to find all of our lives
And not to spend them alone
Feels like I'm surrounded by silence
Directionless against the wind
Seems like there's no one in my life
Feels like the trap I'm in
These things way heavy on my head
(in my head, my head, my head I'm alone)
In my head I'm alone
Mark, I hear you're confused man
(you're not, you're not, you're not all alone)
Man, you're not all alone
When I heard these words spoken
Mankind will weather storms
Mankind, mankind will toss away the cords
Mankind will weather storms
Mankind, mankind will toss away the cords
Mankind will weather storms
Mankind, mankind will toss away the cords
To sow the seeds of our destruction
In my head, my head, my head I'm alone
In my head, my head, my head I'm alone
(in my head, my head, my head I'm alone)
These things way heavy on my head
In my head I'm alone
Mark, I hear you're confused man
(you're not, you're not, you're not all alone)
Man, you're not all alone
My head, my head, my head I'm alone
