

Death, Low Life

Those who are a waste of life
Use up air that others could breathe
Human leaches all around
Looking superior is what they believe

Fake is the word you represent
Your existence on earth I resent
At the cost of others you get by
Each word that you speak is a lie

Low life - That's all you'll ever be
Lies in effect - That's what you like to see

Hiding behind material values
That help cover up your weakness
Never to change, always to look
For an easy way out of life

(Solos: Murphy, Shuldiner, Murphy, Shuldiner, Murphy, Shuldiner)

A pathetic excuse for a human being

Nothing to back you up, never giving second thought
Thinking you fool the world, into seeing something you are not

Fake is the word you represent
Your existence on earth I resent
At the cost of others you get by
Each word that you speak is a lie

Low life - That's all you'll ever be
Lies in effect - That's what you like to see
