

Death SS, In The Darkness

The light no longer shines on me tears in my eyes can't you see dreamin' of a love that cannot be.

In the darkness of my mind first start laughing then start crying and the pain in my heart now makes me blind.

Breakin' breakin' my lonely heart for you you're living in the dark but your smile survives in me memories of you, yesterday you were laying in my arms while now I cry alone, and you're buried in the dark!

Now I wait for your return how long must I cry and mourn but now I know that you can live again.

In the darkness where you rest I will fight against death 'till fate will bring you back here to me.

Breakin' breakin' my lonely heart for you
you're living in the dark
but your smile survives in me I never thought this could be, truth is I really can't believe that your light no longer shines, 'cause you're living in the dark!
