

Death SS, Terror

I'm caught in a thunderstorm and I've missed my train
There are no shelters in this place I'm obliged to take refuge into this old cemetery that seems abandoned.

I hope I won't remain here for a long time besides it's getting darker and darker But just a moment what is happening?
At the flash of lightning I think I see something moving over there.

May be a figment of my imagination but I think I'm lost in this cursed cemetery.
Choked noises now frighten me seem to rise from the graves Now I feel a dark presence and the bells tolling here seem to come from nowhere My God, what is it?

It cannot be true, I'm full of horror!
The dead are leaving their coffins now and they come slowly towards me with their corroded hands and feet Now I realize that my time is come.

It's midnight the time of terror and my last hour is coming it's the time of terror
it's my time to die now.
