

Deathboy, Decimate

You wear the latest in fashion
I wear a frown and a chain
We spend a fortune on makeup
So we can all look the same

I don't think I'm special (yet)
Hate myself all the way through
I'm sure I'd love to be popular
If I didn't think I'd end up like you

I want to knife a pop star
I want to rape a girl band
I want to kill on TV
To make you understand

I want to gun my friends down
Blame it on computer games
I want to decimate on prime time, baby
So that you know my name

You think you look like a god
Want me to get down and pray?
Well, you look like shit to me
I'm gonna treat you that way

You want a smile with your service?
There's not much more I can do
You scream, "I don't deserve this!"
Will you say "thanks" when I kill you?

I want to knife a pop star
I want to rape a girl band
I want to kill on TV
To make you understand

I want to gun my friends down
Blame it on computer games
I want to decimate on prime time, baby
So that you know my name

You didn't know me then
But you'll remember me now

You didn't know me then
But you'll remember me now

You didn't know me then
But you'll remember me now

You didn't know me then
But you'll remember me now

You act like you are a prophet
You're just a badly made toy
Let's pull your skin off and look inside
Let's play the game of destroy

I'm so glad that you're pretty
Perfect teeth and perfect health
I've got a million ways to make you bleed
I practice on my self

You say you're trying to save me
Read me lines from some book

You've got this habit of breathing
I'm going to help you give up

Think you're safe from the psychos
I promise I will find you
You'll be laughing at my face on the news
And I'll be standing behind you

I want to knife a pop star
I want to rape a girl band
I want to kill on TV
To make you understand

I want to gun my friends down
Blame it on computer games
I want to decimate on prime time, baby
So that you know my name!

So that you know my name! (x8)
