

DeathbyRomy, I Don't Believe in Anything

At my open casket would you kiss me?
Before they turn me into flames would you miss me?

They say they pray for me
I know they prey on me
My faith is dead, and
I don't believe in anything

For you
I suffered for your severance
And you
Can have every part of me
When it's through, oh
I hope I gave you some to believe in
Cause there's none left for me

(I don't believe, believe)

Cause there's none left for me

The softest soul can't hurt a fly
Though in her dreams she always dies

They say they pray for me
I know they prey on me
My faith is dead, and
I don't believe in anything

For you
I suffered for your severance
And you
Can have every part of me
When it's through, oh
I hope I gave you some to believe in
Cause there's none left for me

(I don't believe, believe)

Cause there's none left for me

Now I lay me down to sleep
I whisper soft, my faith is weak
And if I die before I wake
Then it's for them my soul to take

(I don't believe)

(You)
I suffered for your severance
(You)
Can have every part of me
(You)
I hope I gave you some to believe in
