Have you seen confusion so abstractive just like morning after the sun the night right after the dawn that's how i feel and for a minute i was laughing the i understood it's goodbye and there was tear inside my eye as you passed by then for a minute i was crying and the i looken into the awesome sky and the snow fell on my lip you said goodbye she belongs to me, i feel it, but that's not just how it is i.d. is what i don't have now when you're not here the day when world goes on don't look like this at all so i wake through days not feelin' anything and it was snowing all night long and the first time ever i'm not happy to see snow
so i walk into the snow for no good reasons and i stood there really long and put it all in this sad, sad song.
