

Deborah Cox, Where do we go from here

When you're in love Some things you take for granted Until someone Pulls it apart And leaves you