

Decoded Feedback, Supernova

Stars shining in the night sky Are the spirits of those who have died
They have exchanged their earthly bodies
Into empty shells full of light, full of light ...

While i burn my own flame Dimmed by grief and despair of your loss
The stars are watching me
And they will burn forever.
forever ...

One day i will leave my earthbound body
And my own star will burn reunited with yours
In a constellation of joy A new star is shining in the star tonight
