

Deepest Blue, Late September

Is it late September and its getting cold
We're putting on our winter clothes and winter smiles
And I knew that I missed you and I dont know why
That I never told you that your world collided with mine

You got me talking in my sleep and not wanting to eat
Faking smiles all the time
And I know that I promised you the earth and for all its worth
Cant get away from it
It was all a lie

Is it late September and its getting cold your birthday is coming and I miss you so
Got to give you time
And I got you a present it is only small
But if you only saw it
It would give you hope
I miss your winter smile

You got me talking in my sleep and not wanting to eat
Facking smiles all the time
And I know I promised you the earth and for all its worth
Cant get it away fron it
It was all a lie

Lonely late september
Lonely late september