

Default, All Is Forgiven

As if the wait was not enough and one can only take so much you broke in to pieces seems hopeless now but at least you know the tables can turn around and time will repair you and the rain comes and goes and all is forgiven can we learn to let go so all is forgiven your on your knees reaching out reaching for someone to lift you up right off the ground is anyone out there you cant breath your choking you'll make it thru just keep holding on i know that it won't be long 'til somebody saves you

when the pounds burn away all is forgiven when the night turn to day so all is forgiven don't stop the rain from pouring down let it wash the pain where it can't be found

oh... all if forgiven
