Deine Lakaien, Love Me Till The End

Waiting for the dawn Waiting for the night Waiting for the dawn Waiting for the night The day's too long The day's too bright The day's too bright Love me, love me to the end this man pursues a dagger in his hands this man pursues a dagger in his hands Yet he will never get into our land Yet he will never get into our land Love me, love me to the end

Fall down by my side down in my arms fall down by my side down in my arms this night forever no morning will come this night forever no morning will come Love me, love me to the end Love me, love me to the end Love me, love me....
