Del Reeves, In A Mansion Stands My Love

On a mountain stands a mansion so fine And it looks down on this cabin of mine I had a love and I loved her true But along came a rich man and he loved her to Now on the mountain in a mansion stands my love

Well he promised he'd buy her diamond rings Yes he promised fancy dresses and things Promised everything indeed But it can't buy a love that her poor heart needs On a mountain in a mansion stand my love (dobro) Now I know that she's not happy there And I know that she's got thing to bare My only dream is that someday She'll come right back here with me and stay In the cabin in the valley with me

On a mountain stands a mansion so fine... Now on the mountain in a mansion stands my love Now on the mountain in a mansion stands my love
