

Del Shannon, My Love Has Gone

Tonight you said that we were through
I've lost again and it is you
I walk alone and think of things, we've said and done
Our love has flown, like spring it came and now has gone

Do you remember summer days
Walks on the shore and ?date caf?
It's winter now, and like the leaves, these tears are falling for you
I've lost your love, now I must face this world alone

And soon the night skies turn to dawn
And still my memories linger on
You're world goes on it's true, but my world stopped when I lost you
Here comes the dawn, my life my love, now are gone
