

Delain, See Me In Shadow (Single Version)

Standing in the shadow of our lies
To hide our imperfections,
Doing anything we can to hide.
Eyes wide open but still blind
To see what really matters,
And insecurity won't go,
See me in shadow.

Standing by the ruins of your soul,
That cries for some more meaning.
Wondering when you have
Become so cold,

So cold,
And all the pictures of your past are gone.
So cold, so cold,
Forget yourself
And who you are,
Another life is not that far.

Standing by the paintings of your dreams,
But you have awoken
And all the purples and the greens
Have turned to black.
And the ruins of your soul
Have died, no more meaning.
I wonder when you have
Become so cold,

So cold,
And all the pictures of your past are gone.
So cold, so cold,
Forget yourself
And who you are,
Another life is not that far.
Not that far,
Not that far,
Not that far.
