

Demis Roussos, When Forever Has Gone

When you lie close to me ,my heart is a flame just the brush of your lips and I call out your name Then I rest in your arms and I know,that you are true but you still understand that's the mystery of you

We will be forever wi'll go on and on we will be together when forever has gone we will be forever we'll go on and on

When I'm weak you are strong when I fall you go on you'll still be with me when my other friends have gone yet you cry like a child and that breaks mi in two you are all things to me that's the mystery of you
