

Demon Hunter, A Thread Of Light

These words are a weapon for the ones in pain A fair fight for the children of a lesser name
We are the war against the sick and fatal fall of man A hollow up to the notion of a Godless stand Quick to slam the gavel on a true solution
You let the fear become a stranglehold Tear it all apart so you can render your own belief You never listened to what you were told

Condemned
You built a wall
Disbelief is all you left us
Reaction
Without a thought
Your resolve is to reject us

You found your darkness stands on a thread of pinhole light
And all you wanted was perfection
You found your darkness stands
on a thread of pinhole light
So all you are is contradiction

You buried the chance in a self-righteous glance
So your sons and your daughters were safe But your imperfect path is a heart made of glass And the world is a charming grenade

Condemned
You built a wall
Disbelief is all you left us
Reaction
Without a thought
Your resolve is to reject us

You found your darkness stands
on a thread of pinhole light
And all you wanted was perfection
You found your darkness stands
on a thread of pinhole light
So all you are is contradiction
