Dennis DeYoung, This I Pray

- Esmerelda - Here tonight As I stand alone With the world gone insane at my door I can dream There will come a time When we won't live in fear anymore

They'll be no talk of hatred No prejudice to tear us apart No sadness or pain In our hearts

Only peace Only joy Only love will remain To keep us and guide us each day This I pray

There'll be no need for vengeance No bigotry to poison our hearts No hatred to tear us apart

Only peace Only joy Only love will remain To keep us and guide us each day This I pray

Only love will remain to keep us and guide us each day This I pray
