

Dennis DeYoung, With Every Heartbeat

&lt;em&gt;- Quasimodo -&lt;/em&gt;
Since Heaven sent you here to me
I have only loved you silently
So afraid to show you how I feel
Can this love be real

And after all that I've been through
Understand that I would die for you
No chains no shackles could restrain my heart
We would never part

(Chorus)
With every heartbeat I'll dream of you
With every breath every sigh
Hoping someday you'll look at me
And see the man inside
With every heartbeat I'll wait for you
Anticipating the time
We'll be together hand to heart
And true love will then be mine
Be mine

&lt;em&gt;- Esmerelda -&lt;/em&gt;
If you could only understand
The pain I feel when I see any man
Who's been condemned to live a world apart
Not for who but what they are

And on the night you came to me
Risky your life for the whole world to see
How could I dare begin to let you know
How I loved you so

With every heartbeat I'll dream of you
With every breath every sigh
Hoping someday you'll look at me
And see the girl inside
With every heartbeat I'll wait for you
Anticipating the time
We'll be together hand to heart
And true love will then be mine
Be mine

(Repeat chorus in duet)
