

Dermot Kennedy, Outnumbered

don't tell me this is all for nothing I can only tell you one thing on the nights you fell outnumbered baby I'll be out there somewhere I see everything you can be
I see the beauty that you can't see
on the nights you fell outnumbered
baby I'll be out there somewhere

I could've showed you all scars at the start but what was always the most difficult part see I'm in love with how you soul's a mix of chaos and art and how you never try to keep 'em apart I wrote some words and then I started at my feet become a coward when I needed to speak I guess love took on a different kind of meaning for me so when I go just know it kill to leave to all the stars that light the road don't ever leave the girl so cold never let me down just lead me home

don't tell me this is all for nothing
I can only tell you one thing
on the nights you fell outnumbered
baby I'll be out there somewhere
I see everything you can be
I see the beauty that you can't see
on the nights you fell outnumbered
baby I'll be out there somewhere

but there's beauty here that's yet to depart there's a still dong inside the halls on yje dark