

DeSol, Goodnight Love

Goodnight Love

Tonight I lay awake in the darkness as your body rests beside me I wonder if we make it there in your dreams
Or if you even think about it Oh, the mess that crowds around us Someone's in denial
I'm not sure if it's me

Oh, baby
I'm so tired
of chasing down forgotten dreams
I don't want to sing
a bitter lullaby
but I can't pretend
everything is alright

Goodnight love

Done with all of their knowledge that never seems to rub off Always looking back trying to find what we lost How I wish that we would wake up and you'd tell me I was dreaming Put your hand on mine tell me everything'll
be alright
but you're still sleeping and..

I'm so tired
of chasing down forgotten dreams
I don't want to sing
a bitter lullaby
but I can't pretend
everything is alright

Goodnight love

Can't give up
Can't let you rest in peace
More and more
you're pulling away from me
Can't give up
Can't give up

I'm so tired
of chasing down these lonely dreams
I don't want to sing
a bitter lullaby
everything is alright
What ever happened to the greatest love in my life?

Goodnight love
Goodnight love
