

DeSol, Teardrops

Maybe if I met you first
If I was stronger
If it wouldn't bring down the rain and the thunder

No use in making love if it don't matter
Been trying to let you go

I could cry a million times song never changes
It plays over in my mind
I don't wanna erase it

And I want to kiss you but I think it be better just trying to let you go

Teardrops on my shoulder
We're running but getting nowhere
No one sees it when you're crying in the rain

This magic that we share we've been hiding
So dark and twisted girl, we cant keep on lying

Don't wanna be your secret
We could never let them see us a love that shouldn't have grown

[chorus]

If only God with all his might could make it right Wash our sins away but until then we still crying in the rain those Teardrops on my shoulder
Filling up
Flooding over
No one sees it when you're crying in the rain

God knows
I've been trying to find a way
God knows
I've been crying in the rain
