

Desperados, March To Destiny

Justice day, the time has come silence before the final storm sight by sight they marching straight 4 brothers face another fate did not go to sleep last night just waiting for the end of time there's no way back, there's no return now guns will talk and skies will burn who felt the wind will earn the ... storm will live inside their minds, nothing else can set them free no guardience to draw the line and they know it's gonna be the march to destiny Behan got into their way, to give that scum security he looked into the marshalls eyes and scared to death, he stepped aside now this scum will have to pay and no one dare get in the way here's the moment of the truth, throw up your hands don't try to move
storm will live inside their minds, nothing else can set them free
no guardience to draw the line and they know it's gonna be
the march to destiny