

Destiny, Tibi - Omnia Quae Sum

Seized by your smile with your voice as beautiful. When you call my name I watch myself dying. So kill me. The beautiful taste of death lingers upon your lips. I hear you name every single day. Your face in my mind. We're sharing words with each other. Feeling my heart drumming its final beat. Relive me with the assurance of our emotion. Every part of me within you has passed by. Living on the other line. Dead to you. Preserving what you adored. Still carrying a picture of you with me.