Detour 180, Fall Away

I'm holding on to get through this Aiming to be a man better than this I'm dreaming high but still looking down What will it take? How many times around? Till i give it all to you

I'm falling away Then i find you waiting To fall in love again

Fall in, slip away Picking up the pieces of yesterday It's a hard time to fall in line Wishing i could say i'll never fall away

I give myself to be set free Make me a better man, in spite of me I'm dreaming high but still looking down What will it take? How many times around? Till i give it all to you

Fall in And find you waiting To fall in love again In love again
