

Detour 180, Overrated

Sick of the wait
On your shoulders
I reach for you
Before you go under again

This is overrated
So move me and spin me 'round
I am flying so low

She loves the radio
While he tunes out nice and slow
But they're all together, way too lonely

I stand and face you
Before it's over
You've felt so low
For so long

Caught in two minds
Closing down around you
Lost time, last time
I'd stop it all to find you
