Detour 180, Overrated

Sick of the wait On your shoulders I reach for you Before you go under again

This is overrated So move me and spin me 'round I am flying so low

She loves the radio While he tunes out nice and slow But they're all together, way too lonely

I stand and face you Before it's over You've felt so low For so long

Caught in two minds Closing down around you Lost time, last time I'd stop it all to find you
