

Diana DeGarmo, Go On And Cry

What goes around comes back around
Seems that's just the way heartache falls
I learn to live without you by my side
But I prayed for the day that you would call
So why don't you lie down
Beside me
Open your heart and confide in me

Go on and cry
Here's my shoulder
Why don't you try to imagine that I even care
Go on and cry
On my cold shoulder
Oooo, you
Left me so sad
And you hurt me so bad
It's your turn to cry, cry, cry over me

You say you made a big mistake, yes you did
When you threw away the love I gave
Boy, I always knew you'd come 'round again
Looking for the love we made

Go on and cry, here's my shoulder
Why don't you try to imagine that I'd even care?
Go on and cry
On my cold shoulder
Oh you left me so sad
And you hurt me so bad
Your turn to cry, cry, cry.

Sometimes love is overrated, yeah
It can be so hard to find a cure
And when a heartbreak is understated
It comes back around
I'm sure oh, oh, oh

Go on and cry
Here's my shoulder, my shoulder
Why don't you try to imagine that I'd even care?
Go on and cry on my cold shoulder
Oh you, you left me so sad
And you hurt me so bad
Your turn to cry
Go on and cry
Over me
Cry over me
