

Diana Ross, Voice Of The Heart

Sometimes when your world seems so big and real
You may run to the shelter of walls
Sometimes you may wish
You could be like your shadow
It fits wherever it falls

Whenever the night's too deep to find
And the morning is too far away
Wherever you are
There's always a star to guide the way
There to guide the way

If you listen long enough
If you dream it strong enough
A door inside will open
And a light will flood the dark
Like a song too long unsung
Or a soul forever young
We all will find an answer
In the voice of the heart

Tonight if a dream should come to your sleep
With a picture you don't wanna see
Go where it leads, from secret to secret
You are what you want to be
Whenever the sun refuses to shine
And you can't chase the storm clouds away
Wherever you are there's always a star to guide the way
There to guide the way

If you listen long enough
If you dream it strong enough
A door inside will open
And a light will flood the dark
Like a song too long unsung
Or a soul forever young
We all will find an answer
In the voice of the heart

Living in a private world
There are times when it's hard to break through
So don't give up
Each time you hurt you've got nothing to lose
There's a voice inside of you

If you listen long enough
If you dream it strong enough
And a light will flood the dark
Like a song too long unsung
Or a soul forever young
We all will find an answer

If you listen long enough
(Listen)
(Dream it)
We will find the answer

If you listen long enough
(Long enough)
(Strong enough)
We will find an answer

If you listen long enough
In the voice
