

Diane Cluck, Easy To Be Around

I was in the coal mine
Picking up diamonds
That the miners had left behind
And I admired their cold shine
Simple and bright
And I pocketed many
In the cavernous night
Clear when held up to the light

You belong to no one
You are easy to be around cause
You belong to no one
You are easy to be around because
You belong to no one
You are easy to be around and I scattered them on the ground

The weight in your eyes
It decays your smile anyway
And because and because and because and because

You did it all
You are easy to be around
I like to walk beside you
You're so easy to be around
It's like I'm not even walking beside you
We are rolling along the ground
White shadow made of mercury
We were two till we melted down
Now you're easy to be around
You're easy to be around
Easy to be around
Easy to be around

Oh I was in the coal mine
Picking up diamonds so heavy
I had to leave them all behind
Coming up from the mine shafts sparkling bright
See me laughing, having nothing in an infinite night
Clear and dangling in the light
Same as what you came with

Makes you easy to be around
Cause the door remains the same width
You're so easy to be around
Forgetting what our name is
And I dance as the sun goes down
You are easy to be around
You are easy to be around
You are easy to be around
You are easy to be around
