

Diary Of Dreams, Chrysalis

Read my lips and speak out loud
My fingertips are more than proud
To touch your skin, to feel your face
I'm drowning in your sweet embrace

Emptiness and incompleteness
Endlessness and in-defeat-less
Has never been this little
No longer I could spare a thought

You said I'm welcome anytime
Be sure I know all flaws are mine
Your promises are never lasting
For longer than it takes to say them

Ease my pain and say again...
Tell me that you think the same
