

Dido, Chances

All I did today was wake up and watch TV Another wasted day But that's alright with me When shadows turn to clouds Good choices won't be made Until tomorrow comes But that's alright with me

I will stand and wait until it's morning
and I won't make it lying down
I will close my eyes so I can see you and I will have all my chances again
I want all of my chances again and as the sky turns red the street lights coming on I could stay up all night or go to bed neither's right or wrong until tomorrow comes /2x

and I won't make it lying down
and I will have all my chances again
I want all of my chances again
