

Die Happy, Leaving You

Why was I so blind - I didn't see the obvious why was I happy when I was in pieces why was I stupid - how did I even fall for you why was I crying, when we finally broke up why was I with you when you didn't want to change your mind why was I with you when you forced me to resign

It's over now

LEAVING YOU IS ALL THAT YOU CAN BLAME ME FOR LEAVING YOU
IF YOU LIKE IT OR NOT
KIND OF STRANGE BITTER TASTE
IT'S GONE TOO FAR
IF YOU LIKE IT OR NOT

Why was I so blind - my eyes were filled with my good will why was I laughing when you were speechless why was I with you when you didn't want to change your life why was I with you when you forced me to decide

It's over now

You were never sure talking 'bout the freedom that you'd lose well I lost a little more trying to solve this problem, find an excuse well, I appreciate it but I've decided now

All that you can blame me for is that I stayed too long everything you take me for is definitely wrong you won't get another chance to prove your faith in me all that you can blame me for is that I disagree
