

Die Trying, Oxygen's Gone

Closer to closure
Take this out of me
Take anything you want
'Cause I'll still breathe, I'll still breathe
Fading thinner but still it's haunting me
Can't find the words to say to the angels
That took you from me
Three words three words
My oxygen's gone
I can't sleep, I can't eat
I cry out to God just to hear me
It's another day still the same with all my pain
Not yet, not yet break me from these visions
Not yet, not yet it's too soon for you

Still choking from knowing the love you've given me
It's hard to believe what I see is no dream, is no dream
I'm drinking and sinking, still it's haunting me
I medicate my fears with more beers and more tears
My oxygen's gone
It's too soon (it's too soon) for you
It's too soon (it's too soon) It's too soon (it's too soon) for you
My oxygen's gone away
My oxygen's gone away (uh huh)
It's too soon

I can't sleep, I can't eat
I cry out to God just to hear me
It's another day still the same with all my pain
Not yet, not yet break me from these visions
Not yet, not yet it's too soon for you

I can't sleep, I can't eat
I cry out to God just to hear me
It's another day still the same with all my pain
Not yet, not yet break me from these visions
Not yet, not yet it's too soon for you
