

Dies Irae, The Oceans Of Filth

in a moral embrace the giants are met, fighting for dominion
I am the judge and the end and death I became, destruction of all the worlds when the time is ripe I shall spit out the plague from my guts

I am the day that passed the eternal frost of your soul the final cry of the fading life shall the universe bear for all times into the black void's infinity to be the warning for other deities

future is my mother and dusk is my father I am the eternal frost of your soul united with chaos all-knowing and ruthless

the destruction of the worlds

the oceans of filth shall dim the glow of all the suns
