

Dilana, Wonderfool

You can rain your tears on me
You can cry your life all over me
You can pour your guts over me
You can pull the strings that move me
I'll teach you everything they never
Taught you at school
Call me wonderfool
I still believe in revolution
I still believe in a crystal ball
I seriously doubt that there's a solution
For the hand in the cookie jar
I don't believe your self destruction
I don't believe who you say you are
I seriously think you're disillusioned
It's all in your head not in your heart
Only the truth can make you happy
So tell me where you're comin' from
I seriously hope you won't forget me
I'm as pure as they come
Life is wonderfool
