

Dilba, Keep A Promise

Dilba

If the world would go crazy and play its funny game with me Your arm would be the one and only

The only thing to rescue me
In your darkest hour, only you
If a whisper is heard, that's me
In your weakest wish a small light is seen

I'll catch a star

I'll bring it down baby

I'll bring it down for your baby

I'll be what you need boy

Finally someone has got me in a place I want to be

I never thought someone so simply would reach to me so easily

Won't defy it or find what's there behind it

Oh no, I lay it down to rest, I will Call on me each time something strange is on your mind

You know I'm the one to take it down
