

Dillinger Four, Smells Like O.K. Soda

Yeah they got it pretty good, find an angle and attack, man, "image is everything"
Make 'em buy it like they should, spend some money on a whim just like Little good americans
It's the trick of imagery, enjoy yourself before the next "image of today"
But I don't like it, I don't see it that way, I don't wallow in self-pity
Or need your slogans just to fill my mind, 'cause I may not be anybody
But at least I'm not blind
Yeah, they used to pack them in like a donkey and a cart with a carrot on a stick
And the kids all bought in, but your rebellion is a myth with complacent inspiration
I used to pass him in the hall, no divine inspiration, average joe in spades, yeah
Now he's not like that at all, he's off playing "individual" just like all of his his friends are
