

Dillinger Four, Thanks For Nothing

what are you gonna do when someone waves a battle flag?
untie your hands or crawl into a body bag?
what do you do when you hear the call, you're standing with your back against the wall.
i'd like to think i'd never raise a fist but i ain't never been put to the test and i can blame the patriot for being blindly lead, but do we live the violence or the violence we've inherited

blackened and blue you watch another turn the screw
going on and on and on [2x]

i know it's dumb, when i was seventeen i thought about my place in history and was there anything worth frightening for and would i ever have to live through war.
and i won't blame the rebel for removing his own chains.
and i think a time may come when i may just have to do the same.

blackened and blue you watch another turn the screw
going on and on and on [2x]
