

Dina Carroll, Heaven Sent

There are days I get so tired of being me
There are days I just can't face reality
And dealing with people that I just don't want to see
Gets me thinking about you and me

In my mind I dream of how I want to be
That's not the way I keep my sanity
'Cos given time I know eventually
I will find peace of mind

(Your love) It's all I need from you
(Your love) It's what takes me through
(Mine) Yes, you're mine
(Mine) Well, yes, you're mine
Heaven must have sent you to me

There are days I just can't find the energy
It seems so hard to find a little harmony
You give the strength, you give it right back to me
When I need to get by

I don't have to question the things that you do
There's never a doubt in my mind about you
You're the one choice I've made in my life
I'm so satisfied, I'm so satisfied
I know I've got you and that you'll see me through

(Your love) It's all I need from you
(Your love) It's what takes me through
(Mine) Yes, you're mine
(Mine) Well, yes, you're mine
Heaven must have sent you to me

Don't think I don't know
'Cos you came along
You made me so strong
Showed me how sweet life can be

(Your love) It's all I need from you
(Your love) It's what takes me through
(Mine) Yes, you're mine
(Mine) Well, yes, you're mine
Heaven must have sent you to me
