

Dina Carroll, Living For The Weekend

Just for me.....

Well I've been moving my bootie all week long
To the rhythm of the working week
Been spending every last dime on design
So I look good enough to eat

'Cos I'll be doing my thing
My thing for you baby
I'll be moving my thing
I can be anything I want to be
Welcome to my fantasy
Tonight I'll be

Living for the weekend
When I can unchain my life
Living for the weekend
It's time to liberate my mind

Well I've been painting my face
For when I enter that place, I want to make a scene
As I walk around, look around, what do I see
I see you, boy, looking at me

'Cos I'll be doing my thing
My thing for you baby
I'll be moving my thing
The night is young and so are you
Walk into my fantasy
Tonight I'll be

Living for the weekend
When I can unchain my life
Living for the weekend
It's time to liberate my mind

I know the DJ's playing that song
And he's playing it just for me
As I'm working that stage like a Broadway play
Uh ah.....

'Cos I'll be doing my thing
My thing for you baby
I'll be moving my thing
Can you feel this energy
Coming from inside of me
Tonight we'll be

Living for the weekend
You know I'm living for the weekend.....
