

Dina Carroll, Only Human

It's getting late
Another argument lies unresolved
I blame you
Though I know that it was my fault too
I still love you
What am I supposed to do
And now the silence
Hurts more than words would ever do

Sorrow wells in my eyes
Does this mean goodbye
Please don't take your love away
I'm only human

Time presses on
Who'll break the silence of this cold still room
Those last few words
Cut so deep, I just can't speak
I'd like to kiss you
Break this silence with my lips
But pride is stronger
With unseen arms it holds me

Sorrow wells in my eyes
Does this mean goodbye
Please don't take your love away
I'm only human

As we embrace
I wonder if we'll make another year
That sounds so harsh
But I've always been a realist
You once told me
Don't give yourself away
And now they are my words
I carry them with me each and every day

Sorrow wells in my eyes
Does this mean goodbye
Please don't take your love away
I'm only human
