

Dina Carroll, Same Old Feeling

You went away
With your thought on my mind
I'm seeing you again
Now I seem to find
The sweetest thoughts of you
Taking up my time

Why didn't I think that I'd miss you
That I would want you in my life
Was it me that took you for granted
All the time

And I get that same old feeling
If you told me that you loved me
I'd be back again
And it's that same old feeling
That will never end
I never knew what I had
Till you had gone
I've got that same old feeling
I was wrong

Though that it takes
Just a touch of the phone
To hear your voice again
But I spend my time
Thinking what would I say
If you should hesitate

I know I need to call you
To get you back into my life
I just happen to have your number memorised

And I get that same old feeling
If you told me that you loved me
I'd be back again
And it's that same old feeling
That will never end
I never knew what I had
Till you had gone
I've got that same old feeling
I was wrong

Why didn't I think that I'd miss you
That I would want you in my life
Was it me that took you for granted
All the time

And I get that same old feeling
If you told me that you loved me
I'd be back again
And it's that same old feeling
That will never end
I never knew what I had
Till you had gone
I was wrong

Oh, so wrong
I was wrong
