

Dingus, Kissing Ass

Kissing ass: a skill developed patiently and yet a necessary trait to get the job sucking up until lips are chapped and mouth is dry self-esteem will slow you down I'd counterfeit to make you happy, you're so much bolder I'd force a smile, I'd rub your shoulders
I might just live my life working under some white collared bastard who's making twice as much however does much less I'd stand by lies, and that's the truth
I'd do what's wrong if you would say it's right I'd bend over, and I'd endure and have it your way Through this injustice, through it all will I just piss and moan and meanwhile support the very system that is killing me?
It's only our lives that we're wasting we nod and we drool unconscious becoming the rats that we're racing promotions without a purpose (endeavor forever, we'll never be better off) Kissing ass: a skill developed mindlessly if at first you don't succeed, try giving head shining shoes, this caste system is rendering should I fight or pay the rent?
