&lt;/lyrics&gt;

I loved you too much.

That's what I always did back then

But I'm tired of watching you.

I already have somebody else in my arms

Immediately, I cannot love you.
Hatred is welling up inside of me
I just want to destroy everything.
Do you like my selfishness as well?

I wanted more than I could say
I longed only for your body

In front of the mirror,
a clown, the only person performing,
Just came close to me and asked
Is it her or me that is torturing you?

I'm all alone and mumbling to myself

I had already hurt you before realizing it Here I am, but we'll never understand each other

In front of the mirror,
a clown, the only person performing,
Just came close to me and asked
Is it her or me that is torturing you?
I'm all alone and mumbling to myself

I can't believe the end has come like this I'm dizzy from the pain
You are laughing and screaming in front of me, looking at the blood-red razor
