

Dirty Honey, Coming Home (Ballad Of The Shire)

Gone are the lines that were drawn
Mistakes we made when we were young
But no southern train could keep me from where I still belong

Chances that I took in vain
Gone with all of the charades
That all this time I didn't know that you'd feel the same

And all of these fears, I'd leave them behind for you
And I can't deny when I'm backing the words that I'll be fine
'Cause I'm coming home
I'm coming home

Made my way through sand and stone
Troubles I've carried alone
Places seemed greener, but never were sweeter than home

And all of these fears, I'd leave them behind for you, yes I would Though I can't deny when I'm backing the words that I'll be fine
'Cause I'm coming home
I'm coming home

I never should have left you, babe
I never could forget you, babe

And I'm coming home
I'm coming home
I'm coming home
Said I'm coming home
